

Directions: You will read the attached article about America Interior Designer and Influencer Elsie de Wolfe. She may not have the same style of design as you, but sometimes your client will not have your design aesthetic either. You should be able to create a space for differing styles, tastes, and clients.

Next, you will use your designfiles.co account to create a board in her style. You may choose to design a bedroom, office or living room. You will label the room on the board. Your board will be a complete room. You will have a color scheme square. You will need at least 15 pictures.

Finally, you will create a new doc in your interior design folder (the folder you created in class in february will work!). You will title it Elsie de Wolfe. The doc will have a picture of your complete board. And a written explanation of your board. You will include at least 4 principles or elements of design (not including the COLOR) in your explanation. Also, share how this board reflects de Wolfe's style.

(You can find the elements and principles of design ppts on my website!)
